Second: Qatar's Plan for the Alliance of Civilizations

Qatar Committee for the Alliance of Civilization developed a State plan for the period (2018-2022) which comes to keep up with the new generation of national plans for the Alliance of civilizations. The plan was based on a number of basic principles represented by the directives of the political leadership, the permanent constitution of the State of Qatar, Qatar National Vision 2030, and the National Development Strategy (2011-2016). It was also drawn on the Unified Arab Strategic Plan for the Alliance of Civilizations (2016-2019), and It was also based on the declarations and recommendations of the seven previous global forums of the Alliance of Civilizations.

Plan objectives are based on a number of principles derived from Arab and Islamic civilization that have complemented human history with the values of tolerance and cooperation among nations and peoples. Also, pillared on principle of international peace and security, and the principles of human rights endorsed by the international community. In addition, it depends on the basic premises and the vision of (QCAOC), which calls for closer cooperation between races, religions and cultures, and establishing bases of solidarity and sharing experiences and benefits among peoples on the fundamental basis of right, justice, and equality, in order to achieve the lofty goals of humanity as a whole.

The overall objective of the plan is to achieve understanding between nations and peoples, to establish solid relations between them and to remove the causes of division and misunderstanding in order to accomplish peaceful coexistence, acceptance of the other and respect for different peoples and cultures

The subsidiary objectives of the plan which includes the four areas of Alliance of civilizations (education, youth, media):
